Lindy Fox, MA, LADC, is a Senior Research Associate at the Dartmouth Psychiatric Research Center. She has worked exclusively on several research projects examining the effectiveness of treatment for people with serious mental illness and substance use disorders. Working with Robert Drake, Ph.D., M.D., she has been involved in research, diagnostic assessments, supervision, training and consultation. She also has a great deal of clinical experience providing group and individual treatment to consumers with dual diagnoses.

Lindy's expertise has been gained through a combination of formal education, personal experience, and professional focus. She has been a recipient of the services she now participates in designing and evaluating. As a result of this unusual combination of personal and professional experience, Ms. Fox brings sensitivity, humor and extensive knowledge to this challenging field of working with people with both serious mental illnesses and substance use disorders.
